Policing in the 9/11 Era

This conference will focus on the changed environment for police administrators as they respond to the threat of both domestic and internationally-based terrorism. Highlighted in the conference will be information about what various agencies have done and will be doing to prevent terrorism within their local jurisdictions. Innovative ideas will be presented by representatives of police departments responsible for planning and implementing programs to address security issues that surfaced as a result of the attack on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon. Presentations will also include police futurists to provide a glimpse of possible scenarios likely to confront law enforcement managers in the coming years.
